Greetings from Aquinas College!

Aquinas has been welcoming transfer students for over 65 years. We strive to make the transition to AQ as simple as possible. Stop by GRCC’s Counseling and Career Center to speak with an Aquinas College Representative during the academic year. Times vary, so please check with GRCC’s Counseling and Career Center for complete details.

Advantages of attending AQ include:

- Over 60 majors and 14 different degree programs
- Small class sizes
- Individual attention
- Financial manageability
- New classes begin every eight weeks
- Day and evening classes

Aquinas offers two programs for undergraduate transfer students. First, determine which describes your situation most accurately.

1. Traditional Undergraduate
   To be a “traditional age” transfer student at Aquinas, you need to have earned at least a 2.0 cumulative GPA in all acceptable college coursework. You need to have completed 12 credit hours with no breaks longer than four years after high school or two years after college.

   For information regarding financial assistance specifically for traditional undergraduate transfer students, view the “traditional undergraduate” financial information sheet. You may also find helpful details at www.aquinas.edu/financialaid.

2. Continuing Education
   Continuing Education (CE) programs at Aquinas are designed and intended for persons beyond conventional college age who are established in their adult lives. You will be a Continuing Education student if you meet one of the following requirements*:
   - Your education has been interrupted (an interruption of two or more years in higher education or an interruption of four or more years since graduating from high school).
   - You have been continuously employed on a full-time basis for two or more years and you qualify as a self-supporting student according to the financial aid regulations.
   - You are a veteran of the armed forces.
   - You already have a bachelor’s degree or professional diploma.

   For information regarding financial assistance, view the “continuing education” financial information sheet. You may also find helpful details at www.aquinas.edu/financialaid.

*The normal Aquinas eligibility requirements must always be met.
