Congratulations!

Lisa Freiburger, M.Ed.
GRCC Interim President

FACULTY EMERITUS AWARD CHEF ANGUS CAMPBELL

Chef Angus Campbell, originally from the Isle of Lewis in Scotland, was a true pioneer of the “farm to table” movement, long before it became a trend. Growing up, he hunted and fished for food, learning to cook by shadowing his mother in the kitchen.

During his 25 years at GRCC, Chef Angus transformed the culinary program and expanded his students’ horizons. He used Skype to bring renowned chefs from around the world into his classroom, well before video calls became common. He also took students on culinary excursions to Spain, Portugal, Greece, Turkey and Great Britain, immersing them in the rich, culturally significant foods of each region.

Chef Angus was a medal-winning chef who inspired his students to compete and develop their skills. He played a key role in bringing the Nation’s Cup International Culinary Competition to GRCC. His passion for the culinary arts was further evident in his best-selling book, award-winning television series and the high standards he set for his students.

Retiring in 2016, Chef Angus’s influence continues to be felt. His dedication, creativity and passion for food left an indelible mark on all who had the privilege of learning from him.

GRCC CHAMPION AWARD MAYOR EMERITUS ROSALYNN BLISS

The GRCC Champion Award honors individuals or organizations whose collaborative efforts have made a lasting impact on our community, reflecting the values of partnership, innovation and excellence. Mayor Emeritus Rosalynn Bliss, the recipient of our 2025 award, has been a transformative leader in Grand Rapids, embodying these principles in every aspect of her work.

Since becoming the city’s first female mayor in 2016, she has demonstrated an unwavering commitment to the city’s growth and prosperity. As an inaugural member of the Grand Rapids Promise Zone Board, Bliss played a pivotal role in creating a scholarship program to support local students in their academic pursuits.

Beyond her mayoral duties, she has worked closely with various civic organizations, such as the Downtown Development Authority, the National League of Cities and Friends of Grand Rapids Parks. Mayor Emeritus Bliss has also served as a professor at Grand Valley State University, inspiring the next generation of leaders in entrepreneurship and innovation. Her tireless dedication has earned her numerous accolades, including recognition as one of Crain’s 100 Most Influential Women and the US Conference of Mayors Small Business Advocate Award.

YOUNG ALUMNI CHEF DARRIN MAYWEATHER

After earning an associate degree and personal chef certification from GRCC’s Secchia Institute for Culinary Education, Chef Darrin Mayweather went on to complete a Bachelor’s degree in Hospitality Management from Ferris State University.

Initially, college wasn’t part of Chef Mayweather’s plans, but a mentor recognized his talent and encouraged him to pursue culinary school. This mentorship changed the trajectory of his life.

Following graduation, Chef Mayweather co-founded Social Arts, LLC, a personal catering business, with fellow chef Chris Sampson. He also serves as an adjunct professor at GRCC, sharing his expertise and real-world experience with the next generation of culinary professionals. As a father of two, Chef Mayweather understands the importance of setting an example and showing his children — and his students — what’s possible when you believe in yourself.

Growing up in the inner city of Grand Rapids, Chef Mayweather has always recognized the untapped talent in his community. He is deeply committed to giving back by supporting local Black food entrepreneurs, providing meals for the less fortunate and working with youth organizations. Every time he steps into the GRCC classroom, Chef Mayweather brings his passion, experience and authenticity to inspire his students.

DIEGO MUNOZ
SCHOOL OF BUSINESS & INDUSTRY

Diego Munoz's journey at GRCC is a testament to his incredible dedication and resilience. Like many students, Diego balanced the demands of full-time work while pursuing his degree, requiring a high level of commitment and careful planning. His academic advisor notes, "Diego not only managed the responsibilities of being a full-time employee, but also excelled academically. He always had a plan and could quickly adapt when necessary."

Diego began his studies at the Lakeshore Campus where the smaller environment provided a sense of connection and support. As a first-generation college student, Diego never thought college was a possibility for him, but GRCC's strong support system helped him stay on track. "Graduating feels surreal," he says, reflecting on how far he has come.

Earning an associate degree in Industrial Maintenance Technology, Diego is not stopping here. He plans to continue his education by pursuing a pre-manufacturing engineering technology degree and eventually transferring to a four-year program.

His academic advisor praises Diego's leadership potential, saying, "His persistent approach to education, combined with his passion, positivity and determination, will undoubtedly propel him toward future success and enrich his career opportunities."

LANCE BENEDICT BAJE SCHOOL OF HEALTH SCIENCES

Lance Benedict Baje's journey to becoming a radiologic technologist is shaped by both his academic excellence and his deep commitment to compassionate patient care. As an immigrant high school student, Lance experienced firsthand the power of kindness and the importance of support. "I didn't even know how to open a locker or find my classrooms," he recalls. "I know how much kindness means when you are scared or alone, and it doesn't cost anything to be nice." This personal experience inspired Lance to bring compassion into his work as a future healthcare professional.

Throughout his studies in radiologic technology, Lance has shown remarkable enthusiasm, dedication and excellence in both technical proficiency and patient care. He has developed a passion for helping people, finding deep gratification in being there for his patients when they need it most.

Lance's positive impact extends beyond his academic achievements. His instructor notes that he consistently brings kindness and respect to both the classroom and clinical settings, fostering a supportive and collaborative environment. Lance's commitment to compassion and care is a shining example of the kind of healthcare professional he will become, and his future is certainly bright.

CORAL DE LA GARZA RAMOS SCHOOL OF LIBERAL ARTS

Coral De La Garza Ramos is a dedicated and compassionate individual who has made a profound impact during her time at GRCC. Throughout her pursuit of an associate degree in Pre-Social Work, Coral demonstrated a strong commitment to serving others, working as a student ambassador, front desk employee and volunteer. She finds immense joy in supporting her peers, stating, "I see myself in the other students who come here. I'm grateful to be a small part of their journey."

As a first-generation college student, Coral's graduation represents more than just a personal achievement. It signifies breaking generational cycles and creating new possibilities for her family. She views walking across the stage to receive her diploma as a powerful step forward.

Coral's vibrant personality and dedication to both her studies and community shine through in everything she does. She consistently asks insightful questions and seeks understanding to ensure her academic success. With plans to transfer to a four-year program in social work, Coral is driven by a passion for creating a more just and equitable world.

Her academic advisor describes Coral as a student leader with a bright future, embodying the values of dedication, service and leadership.

BENJAMIN LAMBRIGHT SCHOOL OF STEM

Benjamin Lambright's journey to earning his degree is a testament to the power of perseverance and support. At 32, Ben returned to school with the help of Michigan Reconnect, a program that made his educational aspirations possible. After years of working long hours and feeling uncertain about his future, Ben decided to give education a chance.

He started by taking a few courses at GRCC, and quickly found himself immersed in learning. Ben credits his success to the strong support system at GRCC, from his professors to his peers. He frequently utilized the tutoring center and, inspired by the help he received, later became a tutor himself. Ben appreciated the real-world experience his instructors brought to the classroom, which allowed him to see the practical application of his studies.

Ben graduated with a pre-engineering degree and plans to continue his education by pursuing a dual major in mechanical engineering and business management at Grand Valley State University. His instructor notes Ben's exceptional passion for learning and his natural curiosity, which will continue to propel him in his career. Ben's journey is a reminder that with the right encouragement and resources, dreams can be realized at any stage in life.

TRENT RENNER SCHOOL OF WORKFORCE TRAINING

Trent Renner has always had a passion for technology. Growing up, he was fascinated by computers, often tinkering with them and building his first one at the age of 14. After high school, he was uncertain about his next step until a friend recommended GRCC. He decided to give it a try, and it quickly became clear he had found his path.

Trent is graduating from GRCC's School of Workforce Training as a Computer Support Technician, completing an intensive program aligned with the globally recognized CompTIA A+ Technician certification. Despite the challenges, Trent put in the extra effort to pass two rigorous exams, earning a credential that will open doors to a promising career in the tech field.

What sets Trent apart is his willingness to help others. His instructor noted that, after every exam, Trent was eager to share his knowledge and help fellow students. Whether leading discussions or answering questions, Trent's approach was always thoughtful, clear and supportive. His generosity and collaborative spirit will make him a valuable asset to any team, and we are excited to see where his journey takes him.

ALMA MATER THE SECOND HUNDRED YEARS-GRCC

*Above the city on a hill,
A river winding through,
A college stands with open doors,
Its colors gold and blue.*

(refrain)

*Alma Mater of open arms
To all who wish to be
Searchers for the distant light,
The truth that sets us free.*

*A bridge across the rising flood,
A path to firmer shore,
A journey to a mountaintop,
A new world to explore.*

*A beacon in the dark of night
To travelers on the sea,
A vineyard for the hands and heart
To nurture lovingly.*

(refrain)

*Alma Mater of open arms
To all who wish to be
Searchers for the distant light,
The truth that sets us free.*

PRESIDENTIAL CHAIN OF OFFICE AND MEDALLION

The interim president is wearing the presidential chain of office and medallion, which honors past and interim presidents marking the years they have led the institution. The medallion, a copy of the college seal, was crafted by faculty members Mike Merchant, Andy Beach and Nate Spahn using equipment in GRCC's state-of-the-art manufacturing lab. The design represents the scholarship and authority of the office. The three flames honor the college's history. These flames exemplify the highest and purest purpose of education in replacing the darkness of ignorance and fear with the vision of truth, understanding and beauty. The college name, embracing the flames, signifies GRCC's commitment to the highest ideals of wisdom, knowledge and the sacred pursuit of learning.

ACADEMIC MACE

Once a familiar weapon in medieval combat, the mace has evolved over time into a symbol of leadership and has become associated with the pride of a nation and its origin. Its presence is a tradition at inaugurations, commencements and academic convocations in institutions of higher learning.

In recent times, the mace was adopted by universities and colleges as a symbol of the power of the academic quest for truth and wisdom. It is carried at academic processions to bring authority to ceremonial occasions and to symbolize the unity and aspirations of the collegial community. The GRCC mace, made by faculty and students, includes a rope of gold encircling the wooden handle that spirals upward emphasizing the strength of the institution. The hardwood column implies strength as it supports and elevates the silver globe — the geometric perfection of endless striving for understanding. Knowledge promises enlightenment and is held in reverence at the pinnacle of the mace. Embedded in the silver globe, the college seal encompasses a global awareness and diversity of the college's mission.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

by Eugene Sullivan, American Council on Education

Modern academic regalia dates back to the 12th and 13th centuries, when universities as we now know them, were developing. At that time, the majority of students and teachers had taken at least minor religious orders, and accordingly, the form of dress adopted by academics reflected cleric dress of the time. (Education had previously been the preserve of monasteries.)

The gowns of the time would have been long to provide warmth in poorly heated buildings. The style of gowns, and other items, determined by Oxford and Cambridge have provided the basis for academic gowns throughout the British Commonwealth, Eire, South Africa and, to a minor degree, the United States.

The hood had its origin in the tippet, or shoulder covering, worn by begging friars in the early middle ages.

Trencher caps, also known as mortar-boards, are a fairly recent innovation and grew out of the Pileus, a cap worn at Oxford and Cambridge around the 17th century. The square cap of the day grew so large that a board was inserted to prevent the corners from drooping over the eyes. Traditionally, a skull cap was worn beneath the Pileus. The sewing of the skull cap to the Pileus was a marriage of convenience. The tassel was approved by Oxford in 1770.

DELTA PI ALPHA

Graduates wearing a medallion on a yellow ribbon, which signifies the Delta Pi Alpha ($\Delta\Pi\Lambda$) honor recognition, represent the top five percent of the graduating class.

PHI THETA KAPPA

Graduates who have achieved a 3.3 cumulative GPA and have joined the Alpha Upsilon Kappa Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa ($\Phi\Theta\K$), the international honor society of the two-year college, are identified by a medallion on a blue ribbon.

HONORS PROGRAM

Graduates identified by the blue, gold and white cords are members of the Honors Program (HP). Graduates wearing a medallion on a white ribbon have completed all Honors Program requirements (HPC).

GRCC MIDDLE COLLEGE

This partnership between GRCC and participating high schools across West Michigan allows students to earn both a high school diploma and an Associate of Arts degree in four years. Middle College graduates are wearing blue and white cords.

MILITARY SERVICE

Graduates who have served in the United States Armed Forces are identified by the red, white and blue cords.

PROMISE ZONE

Graduates who attended through the Grand Rapids Promise Zone are recognized with purple and white cords.

STOLES

The stole, worn by each graduate, is a gift from GRCC Alumni Relations.

NOORTHOEK ACADEMY

GRCC celebrates its partnership with Noorthoek Academy, along with its mission of lifelong learning, by recognizing these students with honorary degrees. The academy partners with GRCC to provide a college experience including continuing education and inclusion experiences in the arts and sciences for adults with learning challenges and other intellectual disabilities.
