PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

On behalf of Grand Rapids Community College, I extend heartfelt congratulations to the accomplished Class of 2024!

Your achievements are not merely academic, but a testament to your ability to navigate the complexities of our world. Embrace your accomplishments with pride, knowing that you have not only mastered subjects but also honed essential life skills.

Today's celebration is not just about individual triumphs but a collective victory, achieved through both individual perseverance and collaborative effort. Your paths to GRCC vary widely – some of you joined immediately after high school, while others arrived later. Regardless of your path, it is likely that your journey included some unanticipated twists and turns. But each of you successfully navigated through challenges, found your home at GRCC, and embraced the unique diversity that defines our institution.

I salute each and every one of you. Whether you're transitioning to a four-year institution, entering the workforce, or embarking on both paths simultaneously, I have no doubt you're well-equipped for the next phase of your journey.

Many of you will pursue further education at esteemed colleges and universities, where our graduates consistently shine. Others will leverage your specialized training to excel in your professions or embark on exciting new career paths.

At GRCC, we take immense pride in our programs, but our greatest source of pride lies in students like you, who have seized the opportunities afforded to them and demonstrated unwavering dedication. You are not just students; you are ambassadors, showcasing the possibilities that await those who strive for excellence.

Class of 2024, relish in your achievements today and in the days to come, for this is but the first of many significant milestones on your journey. We eagerly anticipate witnessing your ongoing success. Remember your beginnings, but also embrace the countless chapters waiting to be written in your story.

Congratulations!

FACULTY EMERITUS AWARD DR. ROBERT LONG

During his tenure at GRCC, Dr. Robert Long overflowed with academic passion for Biological Sciences, and dedication to his students and peers. He embodied the spirit of community college, saying, “We are not a university nor [do we] strive to be one. We begin from a very different place and work to get our students to their highest potential, even when the students themselves may not fully appreciate where that may take them.”

This perspective permeated all of his interactions. With his encouragement, students found and walked through previously unknown doors of opportunity. He consistently invested his personal time uplifting and supporting students, a priceless gift to those who had never before received such affirmation. He selflessly poured time and effort into his fellow faculty members, creating opportunities for all to grow in their careers while advancing the mission of GRCC. Dr. Long is a true leader who knows when to step up and when to step aside.

Dr. Long established numerous initiatives to support student success, including the Gayle E. Long Scholarship Fund for single mothers; the Science Education Center for K-12 teachers; and Project Wild, which brings pre-K through 12 kids into contact with nature and ecology. Dr. Long worked tirelessly during his career to build a community with multi-generational impact.

GRCC CHAMPION AWARD COREWELL HEALTH

The GRCC Champion Award recognizes individuals or organizations whose collaborative efforts have left an indelible mark on our institution, exemplifying the spirit of partnership, innovation and excellence.

Our 2024 award winner, Corewell Health, has been an invaluable partner to the college, demonstrating a commitment to both our institution and our students. Throughout the years, Corewell Health has provided clinical sites for nearly half of the students in many of our healthcare programs. They have partnered with faculty from the Secchia Institute for Culinary Education to help educate medical residents about culinary medicine. They have also employed students from the program to assist in teaching cooking skills and nutrition. They employ students in our groundbreaking Healthcare Apprenticeship programs, in which participants engage in hands-on work while also participating in classroom learning. Corewell Health also provides financial support through the Corewell Health Healthcare Education Professionals Scholarship, which is awarded during a student’s final year of the program to help complete their studies.

Corewell Health works tirelessly to leverage their resources, expertise and influence to champion and amplify our impact within the community. Together, we are serving West Michigan and beyond with quality healthcare professionals and services.

DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI RUTH KELLY

Ruth Kelly has had many careers in her life. She credits GRCC with building a foundation for all those roles by allowing her to explore different interests and introducing her to new perspectives.

Ruth earned her associate degree from GRCC, then went on to earn a bachelor’s degree in political and social sciences and education from Aquinas College, followed by a certificate in Montessori education and a master’s in educational technology from Grand Valley State University.

From there, her life has been a story of public service. She worked in GRPS for 20 years, first as a Montessori teacher and later as a middle school teacher. Working as a community organizer on political campaigns and initiatives inspired her to run for a seat on the City Commission, and she was elected to represent the 2nd Ward from 2010-2019. Her wisdom, calm demeanor, friendly smile and determined attitude are consistent hallmarks of her service to the entire community.

The Ruth and Carl Kelly Public Service Scholarship, established by her brother and his wife, carries on Ruth’s legacy. It encourages students with financial need, especially new Americans, to serve the public through enlightened decision-making based in solid and continuing education.

JODI HOLLAND
SCHOOL OF BUSINESS
& INDUSTRY

Jodi aspired to attend college as a teen, but as the youngest of eight children, it was not in the cards for her. She went to work in the restaurant industry after high school, then became a realtor.

When a friend told her that the Michigan Reconnect program would pay for her degree, Jodi seized the opportunity. Her love of food formed a natural bridge to GRCC’s culinary arts program.

She worked hard, making the Dean’s List the first semester and the President’s List every semester thereafter. Jodi graduated in December 2023 with a general associate degree and a Baking and Pastry Certificate.

Since graduating, she and her husband have started a home-based business baking and selling custom-printed cookies. She developed her signature Cinnamon Honey Butter cookie as part of her retail baking class. She also learned to package, market and sell in that class, which according to her was pure genius for people wanting to open a bakery.

Jodi says that attending college after 40 years was a challenge, but it’s the greatest thing that ever happened to her. “I always wanted to go to college but never had the opportunity. I am so fortunate to have found a way and I don’t take it for granted.”

KATHRYN (“KAT”) WALLER
SCHOOL OF HEALTH SCIENCES

Adults know that life is hard. But Kat will tell you that “hard” does not begin to cover the challenges she faced returning to school as an adult learner.

This was Kat’s second time around at GRCC. She earned an associate degree in 2015 and then became a CNA. Friends and family encouraged her to become a nurse, so she came back to GRCC. Kat appreciated the expertise of the faculty and the hands-on experience of the program.

She found that professors pushed her to do it right, but also stood right alongside her to build confidence and competence.

Kat successfully completed her degree in December 2023 and passed her board exam in February 2024. She is now working for Corewell Health in sub-acute rehab.

“I have never failed at anything, and I failed three classes,” she admits. “I wanted to give up so many times. Friends were dropping out left and right. I had to form new relationships and motivate myself to persevere. And I did, because I wanted to be a GRCC nurse. The biggest compliment I receive now is that people don’t think I’m new to the profession. I’m proud of what I accomplished, and I know that I’m meant to be a nurse.”

LINDA MORFA LIMONTE
SCHOOL OF LIBERAL ARTS

Parents are normally the ones who encourage their children to attend college. And while Linda instilled that goal in her three sons, they reciprocated by encouraging her to return to school and finish her degree. Thanks to their support and the Michigan Reconnect program, Linda is graduating in April with an Associate of Arts degree in pre-anthropology.

After having retired from the U.S. Postal Service, Linda now seeks a career that will allow her to help others. She will attend the University of Michigan and is leaning toward linguistic anthropology so she can help preserve her native Sicilian language.

In addition to overcoming the typical challenges of an adult student, Linda also battled ADHD en route to her degree. She and her sons have all been diagnosed with this condition. Linda credits GRCC disability services with helping her find accommodations so that she could achieve her goals. She started an ADHD support group at GRCC and plans to begin one at U of M as well.

“Three years ago, I could not have dreamed of completing this degree and attending U of M,” Linda admits. “I am so grateful for the support of my children and GRCC for helping me achieve this milestone.”

YASMINA ZIMMER
SCHOOL OF STEM

A natural leader who combines motivation with the calm strength needed to lead others, Yasmina’s love of learning and thirst for knowledge inspired both teachers and her fellow students. Having earned an Associate of Arts Pathway Degree with Math, Science, and Engineering Concentration, Yasmina earned high praise and high honors during her studies and was voted 2023’s student of the year in biology and geology.

Compelled to drop out of high school after her wedding at age 16, Yasmina earned her GED certificate in 2022 and began taking classes at GRCC where she fell in love with biology and geology. “I never thought any of these things would be my life,” stated Yasmina. “I couldn’t have asked for better professors to learn from and who have also provided me with such great opportunities and support in my academics. They have each truly made GRCC a home for me.”

Yasmina is currently an intern for the National Park Service through the Scientist in Parks (SIP) program with The Ecological Society of America and The Geological Society of America. She works at Denali National Park & Preserve Alaska and serves as a natural resource management assistant for the road ecology program. Her role involves monitoring wildlife behavior in response to visitor activity within the park.

ASHLEY R. SMITH
CERTIFICATE SCHOOL OF WORKFORCE TRAINING

Ashley is a second-time college student who returned to GRCC in May 2023 to pursue a technology career. Since she was working full-time while attending school, she appreciated GRCC’s flexibility in spreading the coursework out over 24 weeks instead of 18. Ashley chose the Certificate in IT Computer Support because of the hands-on apprenticeship it offered. She graduated in December 2023.

Ashley’s professor required that they write article reviews every week on topics in computer science. This was an eye-opener for her, as she realized she was gravitating to articles on neuroscience every time. Through that work, she discovered a way to integrate her passion for the brain and artificial intelligence with her computer science knowledge. She plans to pursue a bachelor’s degree in either cognitive neuroscience or computational neuroscience. In the meantime, Ashley enjoys working at Corewell Health and gaining more practical experience in computer science.

Ashley says, “I am so grateful to GRCC for this opportunity. I didn’t realize how hard it was going to be, but they provided the support I needed to persevere and succeed. I’m proud of what I’ve accomplished. Now I am stepping into an industry with almost unlimited potential.”

ALMA MATER
THE SECOND
HUNDRED YEARS-GRCC

*Above the city on a hill,
A river winding through,
A college stands with open doors,
Its colors gold and blue.*

(refrain)

*Alma Mater of open arms
To all who wish to be
Searchers for the distant light,
The truth that sets us free.*

*A bridge across the rising flood,
A path to firmer shore,
A journey to a mountaintop,
A new world to explore.*

*A beacon in the dark of night
To travelers on the sea,
A vineyard for the hands and heart
To nurture lovingly.*

(refrain)

*Alma Mater of open arms
To all who wish to be
Searchers for the distant light,
The truth that sets us free.*

PRESIDENTIAL CHAIN OF OFFICE AND MEDALLION

Dr. Lepper is wearing the presidential chain of office and medallion, which honors past and interim presidents marking the years they have led the institution. The medallion, a copy of the college seal, was crafted by faculty members Mike Merchant, Andy Beach and Nate Spahn using equipment in GRCC's state-of-the-art manufacturing lab. The design represents the scholarship and authority of the office. The three flames honor the college's history. These flames exemplify the highest and purest purpose of education in replacing the darkness of ignorance and fear with the vision of truth, understanding and beauty. The college name, embracing the flames, signifies GRCC's commitment to the highest ideals of wisdom, knowledge and the sacred pursuit of learning.

ACADEMIC MACE

Once a familiar weapon in medieval combat, the mace has evolved over time into a symbol of leadership and has become associated with the pride of a nation and its origin. Its presence is a tradition at inaugurations, commencements and academic convocations in institutions of higher learning.

In recent times, the mace was adopted by universities and colleges as a symbol of the power of the academic quest for truth and wisdom. It is carried at academic processions to bring authority to ceremonial occasions and to symbolize the unity and aspirations of the collegial community. The GRCC mace, made by faculty and students, includes a rope of gold encircling the wooden handle that spirals upward emphasizing the strength of the institution. The hardwood column implies strength as it supports and elevates the silver globe – the geometric perfection of endless striving for understanding. Knowledge promises enlightenment and is held in reverence at the pinnacle of the mace. Embedded in the silver globe, the college seal encompasses a global awareness and diversity of the college's mission.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

by Eugene Sullivan, American Council on Ed.

Modern academic regalia dates back to the 12th and 13th centuries, when universities as we now know them, were developing. At that time, the majority of students and teachers had taken at least minor religious orders, and accordingly, the form of dress adopted by academics reflected cleric dress of the time. (Education had previously been the preserve of monasteries.)

The gowns of the time would have been long to provide warmth in poorly heated buildings. The style of gowns, and other items, determined by Oxford and Cambridge have provided the basis for academic gowns throughout the British Commonwealth, Eire, South Africa and, to a minor degree, the United States.

The hood had its origin in the tippet, or shoulder covering, worn by begging friars in the early middle ages.

Trencher caps, also known as mortar-boards, are a fairly recent innovation and grew out of the Pileus, a cap worn at Oxford and Cambridge around the 17th century. The square cap of the day grew so large that a board was inserted to prevent the corners from drooping over the eyes. Traditionally, a skull cap was worn beneath the Pileus. The sewing of the skull cap to the Pileus was a marriage of convenience. The tassel was approved by Oxford in 1770.

DELTA PI ALPHA

Graduates wearing a medallion on a yellow ribbon, which signifies the Delta Pi Alpha honor recognition, represent the top five percent of the graduating class.

PHI THETA KAPPA

Graduates who have achieved a 3.3 cumulative GPA and have joined the Alpha Upsilon Kappa Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, the international honor society of the two-year college, are identified by a medallion on a blue ribbon.

HONORS PROGRAM

Graduates identified by the blue, gold and white cords are members of the Honors Program (HP). Graduates wearing a medallion on a white ribbon have completed all Honors Program requirements (HPC).

GRCC MIDDLE COLLEGE

This partnership between GRCC and participating high schools across West Michigan allows students to earn both a high school diploma and an Associate of Arts degree in four years. Middle College graduates are wearing blue and white cords.

MILITARY SERVICE

Graduates who have served in the United States Armed Forces are identified by the red, white and blue cords.

PROMISE ZONE

Graduates who attended through the Grand Rapids Promise Zone are recognized with purple and white cords.

STOLES

The stole, worn by each graduate, is a gift from GRCC Alumni Relations.
